PARENT-TEACHER CONFERENCE TIPS

1. Check yourself
2. Remember the three-legged stool rule
3. Do your homework
4. Be open
5. Next steps

This isn't about you
— seriously.

It's easy to feel anxious. Resist the urge to take things
personally.

Don't believe everything you think.

Your child's education is a three-way partnership.

This is not the be-all / end-all; just one part of a long convo:

Learning
Strengths
Grades
Behavior
Goals
Challenges

Be as prepared as possible to listen and ask questions:

Is your kid happy?

Teacher's thoughts

Discuss learning style

Peer influences

Your observations

Close with a game plan and follow up regularly.

Keep the conversation going
